

May 15th, 2019 | MCCCUC Renovation and Construction Update

The process of getting our Main Office ready to start the renovation process begun about a month ago, but things have really picked up within the last couple of weeks. We've shifted employees to alternative working spaces, have been packing and putting items in storage, and have done a whole lot of cleaning! We're sure many of you have seen the construction crew walking around the premises, but at this stage of the process there are no anticipated interruptions to the flow of business at our branch.

Current

In the next 7 - 10 days we anticipate that the NAPA building will be demolished and the corner at Telegraph and Fredericks will look very different! This will be the site of what we are currently calling our "North Building" and will house back office employees, a community room, and room for when MCCCUC continues to grow! Sometime within the next couple of weeks, we will be posting a complete rendition of the building in our parking lot area for everyone to see.
